

Winash Residential Care Home takes infection prevention and control very seriously. We continue to follow all Government guidance regarding Coronavirus (COVID-19).

We follow the Government guidance on infection prevention and control \(IPC\) resource for adult social care. This document sets out general IPC principles to be used in combination with guidance on managing specific infections.

The guidance specifically relating to Covid-19 is the COVID-19 supplement to the infection prevention and control resource for adult social care. The guidance is being used to support our response to coronavirus (COVID-19) and was first published on 4th April 2022.

Additional supplementary guidance we follow is the adult social care testing guidance, which details the testing regimes for all staff, as well as any resident and outbreak testing where applicable as well as COVID-19 PPE guide for adult social care services and settings, COVID-19 PPE guide for unpaid carers and PPE guide for non-aerosol generating procedures.

We have also implemented the new (2022) national specifications for cleaning in care homes. These are a set of standards produced by the NHS National Patient Safety Agency, designed to ensure a good level of hygiene and infection prevention in the NHS and Social Care settings.
